The staff, volunteers, and Board of Directors were excited for 2020 to arrive so we could celebrate a momentous occasion in our history. We would be celebrating 100 years of service, 1920 to 2020, in our community. Plans were made and events put into place. We were anxious and proud!

The news that came in the early months of 2020 put a damper on all of us and ended plans of celebrations for so many folks. The COVID-19 virus had spread across the globe. The United States instituted policies of quarantine and required orders of stay in March; the date depended on the Governor. Pennsylvania’s Governor Wolf determined March 17, 2020, as the first day for PA.

The Management Team of YWCA Hanover had to think fast because we did not have an option to choose to close Safe Home and end the provision of life-saving services...
SAFE HOME WALK A MILE 2020

Michelle Shae
Director of SafeHome

Want to see men from all walks of life don a pair of heels and go for a stroll through downtown Hanover? So do we, which is why planning is already underway for YWCA Hanover’s Safe Home Walk a Mile event in August. We’re excited - for the 8th year in a row - to create a local opportunity for people to participate in and support Walk a Mile in Her Shoes®: The International Men’s March to Stop Rape, Sexual Assault & Gender Violence. By wearing women’s shoes, male walkers call attention to gender stereotypes and expectations. The event creates a positive, nonconfrontational way to open conversations about the underlying causes and consequences of men’s sexualized violence.

This is Safe Home’s major fundraiser for the year. Last year, we nearly doubled in size with 418 participants and we raised over $50,000! With your continued support, we hope to break that record this year! You can help us by becoming a team member, individual walker, or sponsor.

Although Walk a Mile is a fun event, it doesn’t change the seriousness of domestic violence around the world and closer to home. Fortunately, Safe Home has been able to expand our services to three offices: one in Hanover, one in Gettysburg, and one at the York County Courthouse. All three branches provide comprehensive, 24-hour domestic violence services including legal advocacy and assistance with Protection Orders, civil legal referrals, adult and child therapy and substance abuse treatment referrals, options counseling, safety planning, temporary safe housing, community education, referrals to local shelters, and outreach and support for human trafficking victims.

Domestic violence, left unaddressed, affects our communities in sometimes unseen and often unexpected ways, including an increase in: homelessness, localized economic depression, use of and need for police and medical resources, child abuse and hunger, and crime statistics. Domestic violence can also contribute to declining home values. Safe Home provides the tools to fight domestic violence and helps individuals, families, and communities to become stronger, safer, healthier, and happier.

Show your community you care and support Safe Home’s Walk a Mile event! If you’re a man, get yourself some sturdy heels and have some fun while showing your support. Women and children can walk, too, and they can wear whatever kind of shoes they want!

Add us to your calendar today!
to victims of domestic violence. Safe Home employees have provided services 24 hours a day, 7 days a week for 38 years and this virus was not going to stop them.

Childcare services, like YWCA Hanover's Early Learning Center and School Age Learning Academy, had to be closed in the same way all schools closed physical locations. The children and families were now in their own homes following the safety guidelines of the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) and other government entities.

Programs and events had to be cancelled and postponed, so we spent days communicating with those affected by those closures.

The Management Team continued working daily to put safety guidelines into place, acquire PPE's, thoroughly sanitize all areas of our facilities located in Hanover and Gettysburg even hiring Bailey Coach to professionally sanitize all four facilities and the vehicles.

Communications to employees, clients, parents, our stakeholders, partners, funders, Board of Directors, and committee members were constantly flowing and adapted on an almost daily basis accordingly.

The families we serve in childcare programs were calling and asking when we might open. Those individuals who were considered "essential employees" needed to return to work. Therefore, after taking all of the precautions possible and receiving a waiver from the PA Department of Human Services, the Early Learning Center (ages 1-5 years) and the School Age Learning Academy (grades K-6) began operation on May 11, 2020, for children whose parents were "essential employees". The children, parents, and teachers have been so happy to see one another and have returned to normal routines: learning, laughing, sharing, and playing.

YWCA Hanover will continue to serve our community throughout this crisis and beyond. All programs and events are being assessed to reconfigure ways to operate virtually or otherwise. We will be here for you just as we have been for 100 years now, from 1920 to 2020.

As always, thank you for your exceptional support.
YWCA Hanover Centennial
Looking Back, Looking Forward

For the past one hundred years, YWCA Hanover has been a source of fellowship, support, and community volunteerism for the women of Hanover. To celebrate our Centennial Anniversary, we are looking at where we have been, where we are, and where we are going. Melding this framework together are two of our current board members, both of whom appeared in Evening Sun articles written in the 1980s.

Michele Witman has seen many changes at YWCA Hanover since she first became involved with the organization in 1986. “Serving on the Board helped me learn about our community, be a part of something outside of family and work, and build confidence,” she said.

Prior to joining the Board, she only knew the YW from going to the Y Teen dances. In the YWCA at that time, there were a variety of clubs to meet the needs and interests of different age groups. The most popular programs were fitness-based and childcare services. There was an established, strong gymnastics program, and Safe Home was just starting.

After graduating from college, Witman started her career at a local accounting firm. “I was asked to go out and get involved in the community, so I joined a few organizations, but the fit didn’t feel right,” she said. When she was asked to join the YW Board, she knew she found her niche.

“I was in awe of who I was sitting with at the Board table. They were all strong women who were involved and known in the community. I am still friends with some of these great ladies.”

Michelle Mowrer joined the YWCA Hanover Board of Directors three years ago. “I learned more about the YWCA and it made me realize that being part of this organization was exactly what I needed in my life,” she said.

Though a fairly recent board member, Mowrer is very familiar with YWCA Hanover. Her first memory of the YWCA was when she attended preschool and helped paint pictures on the catwalk windows. She still looks up at the catwalk to see what is being displayed when driving by. She commented, “Children usually do not remember their preschool, but I have a few distinct and fond memories of the YWCA.” She recalls the kind teachers and her first set of friends, as well as remembering “learning to tie my shoes and being the child that never wanted to take naps.” Mowrer goes on to say, “What I didn’t realize then was the impact that the YWCA had on our community.”

Mowrer is a 2006 South Western alum and a Penn State University graduate who feels “blessed that I was able to grow up in this amazing small town and see how it has evolved over the years!” She has always known she wanted to be a large part of this community and help in any way that she could.

Mowrer also serves on the Board of Directors of the Hanover Area Young Professionals, she is a Chamber Ambassador for the Hanover Chamber of Commerce, and serves on the 2nd Saturday committee for Main Street Hanover.

“The amazing impact that the YWCA currently makes in this community by providing families with reasonable childcare and a dedicated domestic violence staff shows the love and compassion that this organization has running through its veins.

“The YWCA has grown and evolved along with the little community of Hanover and it continues to grow and expand to be able to service more people. We are proud to now be serving Adams County, as well.

“My vision for the YWCA Hanover is to continue to expand and be able to offer more childcare services to a larger portion of our community. I also would like to see us expand... our domestic violence support and offer more resources to our community, to help those who are currently exposed to domestic violence and educate more people on how to prevent it. Our world is evolving and unfortunately, we have more and more people exposed to different types of domestic violence, including teenagers.

“Our mission is to provide support to this community to combat domestic violence and prevent racism. As a board member, I know we have our work cut out for us, but the more we can get the word out that we are here to help, the more people will trust us to be their support system. I feel there is too much hatred in this world and if we can be a little part of the positive light that shines on the children and families we service every day, we are making a difference!”

Witman, in the Evening Sun article from the 1980s, said she found the right combination of professionalism and concern for humanity in YWCA Hanover. Her thoughts on the organization today echo those same impressions: “Being on the Board, I realized it takes a team to build a strong community and I started to get involved in other organizations – soccer club, scouts, PTO, Relay for Life, Walk a Mile. All to help make our community a great place for our families to live and work.”

Thirty-four years later, Witman is still involved with the YWCA and has returned to the Board of Directors as Board President. “We are still a thriving organization supported by a strong, working Board and a great community.”

YWCA Hanover has been committed to providing the Hanover area community with 100 years of service, advocacy, unity, and fellowship; in partnership with amazing individuals like Michele Witman, Michelle Mowrer, and all of the YW Board of Directors and volunteers dedicated to the Hanover community, YWCA Hanover will have the opportunity to serve for 100 more years. YWCA Hanover is on a mission to eliminate racism, empower women, and promote peace, justice, freedom, and dignity for all.

Michele Witman is the Director of Finance with AquaPhoenix Scientific and serves as the current YWCA Hanover Board of Directors President. Michelle Mowrer is the Regional Vice President of Members 1st Federal Credit Union and serves as the YWCA Hanover Board of Directors Treasurer.
EARLY LEARNING CENTER AT YWCA HANOVER: DON'T LET THE SUMMER BE A BUMMER!

Katie Nelson,
Director of Childcare

The Early Learning Center is now registering children ages 1-5 for our summer programs. We are open from 6:00am - 6:00pm, Monday - Friday. Breakfast, lunch, and afternoon snack are included. We provide a safe, loving, and nurturing environment for children to learn and grow.

Our summer activities provide fun while promoting growth in all developmental areas for our youngest learners. Age-appropriate lesson plans are developed around the PA Early Learning Standards. Summertime is a fun time in our ELC program with learning-centered events such as weekly water days, walks to the library, special visitors, walking trips, and playing in our outdoor sandbox. Lessons include gross motor skills, hands-on activities, water play, sand play, art, music, and learning centers. We provide daily communication including e-mails and pictures sent via ClassDojo so you don’t miss a thing while your child is busy learning with us.

The YWCA Early Learning Center is rated 4 out of 4 stars by the PA Keystone Stars and licensed by the Department of Human Services. All of our staff have current state clearances and are First Aid and CPR certified. Additionally, all staff in the ELC participate in annual professional development trainings.

Call now to set up an appointment to take a tour and register your child for the Early Learning Center! Spaces are limited.

SCHOOL AGE LEARNING ACADEMY

Beth Lecrone
Asst. Director of Childcare, School Age Coordinator

We have been enjoying the school year in our School Age Learning Academy (SALA). One of our highlights was a visit from Reptile Invasion. Our students learned about various species of reptiles and had the chance to hold some of them. In music, we have been learning new musical games and drama each week with Deb Smith. Multiple research studies have demonstrated a correlation between music instruction and play at a young age and increased listening skills. These listening skills are closely tied to the ability to: perceive speech in a noisy background, pay attention, and keep sounds in memory, which are all skills students need to be successful in school. We are grateful for Miss Deb and what she offers to our students. Recently, we added tone chimes to our program, and the students are beginning to make “A Little Night Music” as they learn to ring tone chimes.

Camp Phoenix will begin on June 8 and go through August 14, 2020. We will have a fun-filled summer with activities that include weekly field trips and swimming for children in grades 2-6. Registration forms are available on our website and at the front desk.
Hey Friends! Here is the scoop from the desk of Deb Smith. We were off to a great start in 2020. In February, Mynec Ojo was our guest reader for Story Time with Deb Smith. She read an awesome book called, Have You Thanked an Inventor Today?, by Patrice McLaurin. The young protagonist in the book highlighted the many contributions to our daily lives made by African-American inventors. The participants enjoyed the story, coloring, and a snack. Our next story time will involve sign language.

GIRLS LOVING LIFE

A free program for girls in grades 2-12 is a great place to learn confidence and build friendships.

Using our five tenets as the basis for our instruction, our program continues to grow and offer more opportunities and experiences for our young ladies. Each session runs for eight weeks on Saturdays. Every Saturday has a different focus and activity, but we’re always centered on loving your soul, loving others, loving your body, loving learning and growing, and loving life.

Our Black History Month celebration included a bus trip to the African American Museum in Washington, DC. The museum is a testament to the lives, history, and culture of African Americans. The most moving part of the museum for me was the coffin of Emmett Till. If you are not familiar with his story, you can read about it at https://bit.ly/2yrv7zB. The trip was inspirational and moving. Stay tuned for our next bus trip.

Our UpStanders Youth Council is off to a strong start. They collected and packed different items for the Hanover homeless shelter. They are working on activities and events for the future.

The program’s activities are designed for our girls in grades 2-8. Each week, we have discussions, activities, and journaling to reinforce whichever tenet we are working on that day.

Our mentors, girls in grades 9-12, help lead activities and support the younger girls. They are not only strong role models for the younger girls, but they are also an amazing support group for each other. Whether working on a STEAM challenge or making blankets for the animal shelter, Girls Loving Life is a place where girls can be proud of who they are.
Our league, though grieving multiple cancelled practices, games, and tournaments, is standing up together in the face of adversity. We have been meeting on ZOOM to do workouts together and are holding each other accountable for staying healthy and strong during the national response to COVID-19.

Redrum, Riveters’ coach and all-star blocker, reports that she has been running with her dog, Kona, to stay in shape and has been making and selling macramé wall hangings. Brotato chip has been making and selling handmade dreamcatchers to nurture her mental health and Deja Blue, who just opened up Bluebird Tattoo studio in the Hanover square, has been painting and selling custom pet portraits. Some other league members are still working during the pandemic. Maple Mayhem is a prison guard and reports that protocol has been tough and tiring. Byo Hazard is a quality assurance supervisor for a food production plant and has been following sanitization protocol closely while on the job.

We are so proud of our league members that are considered essential personnel and are on the frontlines during this pandemic. Some other members of our league have mentioned that they are playing trivia via zoom to stay social and keeping up with house renovations and projects to stay busy and productive. We are currently unsure of when we will be able to start practicing again but the silver-lining is that we learned a new appreciation for our individual freedoms and opportunity to skate here at the YWCA, and we are motivated more than ever to get back on the track, skate fast, hit hard, and train for upcoming bouts. Find us on Facebook at Black Rose Rollers to stay tuned for upcoming bouts in 2020.

“A strong woman stands up for herself. A stronger woman stands up for everybody else.”
YWCA Hanover, in partnership with True North, has been implementing a program designed to provide a safe space for LGBTQ+ youth over the past year and are continuing this program for the foreseeable future. YWCA Hanover staff and True North counselors and therapists provide a meeting space at the YWCA Hanover community room for individuals 14-21 who identify as LGBTQ+ and would like a safe place to be themselves or meet other individuals who identify with this community.

Qmmunity meetings are held on the first Tuesday of each month. These meetings serve a variety of purposes, ranging from educational topics, guest speakers, fun crafts and games, or a place to talk to others or vent about issues in personal life or the community.

Recently, the owner of Hope Salon, Bryan Asper, came to talk at one of the monthly meetings. He discussed the struggles during his childhood and early adulthood of growing up as a gay male and how this affected him. Bryan is now a happy father and owns his own hair salon in Hanover, something that he attributes to the lessons he learned in life and all of the barriers he overcame to be where he is today.

On February 29th, the YWCA Hanover, in partnership with True North, held the first PRIDE Mixer in the community room of the YWCA Hanover. Everyone who attended had a lot of fun with sport games provided in the gym, a DJ, popcorn machine, cake, and an overall accepting atmosphere.

In addition to the monthly meeting, there are plans in place to have an event every quarter, each event being different, in the hopes more LGBTQ+ youth will join us and participate. Another exciting development for the Qmmunity group is the ability to work with Bryan Asper and other leaders in the community to bring a big PRIDE event to Hanover each year.

YWCA Hanover and facilitators from True North are looking forward to assisting Bryan and others in the creation of such an event in Hanover; it is long overdue.

“No person is your friend who demands your silence, or denies your right to grow.”

2020 Annual Giving Campaign

Board of Directors & Executive Director

This year marks 100 years of service to our community. YWCA Hanover has endured many historical moments in a century, from 1920-2020. You can just imagine as you think of these historic movements and events that shaped the YWCA mission and drove the services we provided and still provide. Movements and events that included World Wars, Women’s Suffrage Movement, The Great Depression, Civil Rights Movement, Women’s Rights Movement, and now a worldwide health pandemic... COVID-19 virus.

The impact of the COVID virus has been far reaching not only in terms of physical health but also economic health. Many people, families, business’s, and service agencies are struggling. Yet the need for YWCA services never ceases. Unfortunately, domestic violence continues and even worsens during stressful times like these. Childcare services are still necessary to support those who are essential to our economy. Those who must work need help keeping their children safe and nurtured.

We will be asking our community to support the 2020 Century Annual Giving Campaign just as we have been since it’s inception in 2015.

More than ever, we need your support to ensure our lifesaving, critical services will always be available to anyone needing them. Of course, your support is vital and key to the provision of mission driven programs that touch the lives of marginalized groups and meet our mission of Eliminating Racism, empowering women and promoting peace, justice, freedom and dignity for all.

Thank you for always being there for us just as we are committed to always being here for you. Your support of this once in a lifetime anniversary is profoundly appreciated.
